Eric E. Cohen, CPA, Chief AI Officer at Cohen Computer Consulting, commented: "This is such an important area. I might liken it to using pirated software for business, although not as openly illegal. Management needs to communicate the risks and reasons for any limitations, and to consider both locally installed installations of open-source models and educate staff on in the risks and limitations of even permitted use."